How did FRA prepare you for college and life?

FRA staff gave good advice on selecting best colleges lines of occupations and also did a great job of securing scholarships available for numerous colleges. Working with those parents who founded FRA was an enlightening who worked countless hours 7 days a week to get FRA open, showing their dedication to their children. Our parents and children came together to form lifetime close cherished friendships.

What do you love about FRA?

The diversity of the students who come from several parishes, from many backgrounds. I think this prepares FRA students to cope with the many personal as well as job related obstacles they are sure to face when they get into the workforce. I admire the many parents, alumni, and children who still work to achieve excellence at FRA.

What would you tell a student or family who is considering an education at FRA?

Your financial investment in FRA pays off big dividends in adequately preparing you for your many years to follow.

What is your favorite memory of FRA?

While playing basketball on a concrete outdoor basketball court, sometimes so cold that my hands would hurt when receiving a passed basketball, I greatly appreciated the opportunity to show my appreciation for what the founders sacrificed to make this and all the other great FRA experiences happen.
